Supervisory Patent Examiner, Art Unit 3714

Reason for Allowance

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Applicant's invention is designed to be used in an online gaming where player has to pay points to play without the need of a credit card; a prepaid card is used to initiate a game using game terminal in communication with the server, where the server requires player to go through an extra measure of security besides just a password on the card for authentication and tempering.

2. Closest prior art of record is Dunlop US 2002/0068632 where he discloses purchasing a physical token to play online game where token is authenticated using password. However Dunlap fails to disclose, teach or suggest the claimed features of providing, in addition to a password, two complementary portions of image data, and combining those portions into a complete image of a game item, where neither of the two complementary portions of image data alone can produce the complete image of the game item as recited on claim 1 below:

"storing data in... memory of each of plurality of game playing terminals, said data including a first portion of data representing a first portion of a complete image of a present item;

storing a second portion of data in memory means of server, said second portion of data representing a second portion of the complete image of said present item;

distributing a plurality of game cards for said predetermined game, to which proper passwords are respectively assigned;

transmitting said proper password of said distributed game card from a game playing terminal to a server through said communication line by inputting said password through an input portion of said game playing terminal...

reading said first portion of data from said memory means of said game playing terminal, producing said complete image of said present item from said first and second portions of data, and displaying said complete image of said present item on said display;

wherein it is impossible to produce said complete image of said present item from only said first portion of data or said second portion of data... , "

FIG. 4

Referring to applicant's drawing FIG 4 above, With the claimed invention, the image of a game item ("present item") is produced using two components of image data - the first component resides in the terminal, and the second component is downloaded from the server to the terminal. Thus, it is not possible to produce the image of the "present item" from only the first portion of image data or only the second portion of image data. This enhances the security of the system by preventing a player from tampering with card data to obtain a higher-value card (e.g., altering the card data to obtain an undeserved "rare" card). The claimed invention provides this feature without the need for additional hardware mounted on the game playing terminal.

Examiner's amendment

3. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Jeff Chamberlain on 12/15/09.

Please amend the claim as follows:

Please replace claim 4 with the following:

Claim 4. A method for controlling a game with a communication line for storing a game program which is divided into a plurality of charged playing sections which a player can play by paying a point, and for distributing a plurality of game cards for said predetermined game, to which proper passwords are respectively assigned, and for transmitting said proper password of said distributed game card from a game playing terminal to a server through said communication line, and for setting said point which shows game playable volume corresponding to said password, in an account in memory means of said server for each player by said server, and for controlling said game playing terminal by said server through said communication line so as to allow said player to play said charged playing section within bounds of said point, said method comprising:

Controlling said game playing terminal to store predetermined items, which said player uses in said game, as control items in a control item table for display provided in said memory means of said game playing terminal;

reading said control item to be displayed out of said control item table for display and to display said read control item at said game playing terminal; storing said control items, which each player uses in a game presently played in said game playing terminal for said player, in a master control item table which is stored in said memory means of said server by an account control portion of said server; and loading by said account control portion of said server said contents of said master control item table of each player which is stored in said master control item table into said game playing terminal with which said player plays said game two or more times at predetermined time intervals while connecting said game playing terminal and said server with each other through said communication line so as to renew said control item table for display in said game playing terminal by said game execution control portion of said game playing terminal, thus the control item table for each terminal is renew at periodic time intervals reflecting a change in said master control item table due to a proceeding said ,game which said player plays without ,generating time delay .

With the claimed invention as disclosed on claim 4 above, a player is prevented from unfairly hacking the system to obtain control items such as "rare" cards used in the game. This is because all control items used by a player are renewed/controlled on the server side for each player, and a copy of the control item table is downloaded to each game terminal. The control item table for each terminal is renewed (using the contents of the master control table located on the server) at periodic time intervals. Thus, even if a player unfairly attempts to obtain a desirable control item (e.g., a "rare" card) by hacking/rewriting data in the control item table on the game playing terminal, the improperly rewritten data is over-written ("renewed") by the correct data downloaded by the server at the next predetermined time interval. In this way, the system deters cheating and hacking.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
